Overview Much self- and peer-editing at the high school level is handled more or less on the "sink or swim" method. In this method, teachers will often provide students a list that's intended to be helpful -- a list of editing marks, perhaps, or a list of common stylistic and content errors -- and expect that students will dutifully work down the list, identify their own problems in writing ...

Written by Chandra Clarke. Writing a paper is different for everyone. For some, it may seem like a simple task. For others, it may seem impossible. For everyone, though, the trick to creating a consistent, clear piece of writing is good editing. However, your editing abilities may not be enough when it comes to improving your own writing.

In medicine, a case report is a detailed report of the symptoms, signs, diagnosis, treatment, and follow-up of an individual patient. Case reports may contain a demographic profile of the patient, but usually describe an unusual or novel occurrence. Some case reports also contain a literature review of other reported cases. Case reports are professional narratives that provide feedback on ...
